

Summary of assignment#2

From monthly plots, we can conclude that the August electricity consumption is much less than other months'. As a student, the reason that I think that during a summer holiday, school closed may cause less electricity consumption. From daily plots, more electricity consumption happened in the beginning and middle of month. From hourly plots, more electricity consumption happened in the morning. That makes sense since human activity almost happens in the morning and afternoon, not at night.